THREE MORE SEATS GO TO REPUBLICANS

Districts in Missouri, Minnesota and New York Won by the G. O. P.

NEW YORK, November 6 (by the Associated Press).—Republicans will victories in three congressional districts, two now represented by democrats—the fifth Missouri, eighth Minnesota and the twenty-third New York—assured with the receipt tonight of the last belated returns, determined definitely the line-up of the House of Representatives after March 4 next, according to unofficial returns.

The republicans will have 233 representatives in the House, 128 democrats. The other four of the 435 members include one socialist, one independent, one independent prohibitionist and one independent republican. The figures represent a net gain for the republicans of sixty-one members and a loss to the democrats of fifty-two. The present Congress contains an equal number of miscellaneous members, four, with 222 republicans and 190 democrats.

In two of the districts reported today the republicans won. In the fifth Missouri, E. E. Ellis, republican, defeated William T. Bland, democratic candidate for re-election, while the situation was similar in the twenty-third New York, where Richard F. McKinney, democrat, who now represents the district, lost to Albert H. Rosendale, republican.

WALSH CITES OWN WARNING TO PARTY

Bay State Senator Certain Year Ago League Issue Meant Defeat.

Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, who has been in Washington attending meetings of the "committee of one hundred" appointed to take steps to crystallize public opinion in this country with regard to the conditions existing in Ireland, was not ready yesterday to be quoted about the future of the democratic party, or what should be done in the way of its reorganization.

He said he had received no invitation to take part in any conference of democratic leaders here, notwithstanding repeated reports that he and Col. Bryan and other democrats who have been at odds with the administration were expected to get together soon and talk things over.

Predicted Last Year.

Senator Walsh said, however, that the result of the elections on Tuesday had been predicted by him a year ago, when he strongly opposed in interviews and in speeches in the Senate the democratic party's making the league of nations an issue.

"I said in the Senate that the league of nations as presented to the Senate by the President had the sting of death in it for the democratic party, if that party should undertake to make it an issue in opposition to the amendments adopted by the Senate," said Senator Walsh. "It seems to me that a child might have seen what was going to happen."

with him, published in November, 1919, in which he had said, in part: "I am not surprised that the republican party is willing to make it (the league of nations) an issue. In my opinion it would be disastrous. How can any party or candidate for national office defend a position or vote against reservations defending the Monroe doctrine?"

Senator Walsh expected to leave here last night for Massachusetts. He will return to Washington in time to take part in the hearings before the committee of one hundred on the atrocities committed by the English in Ireland, beginning November 17, when eyewitnesses will be heard.
